

Kent Zimmermann

Full Narrative

Kent Zimmermann is one of the leading strategic advisors to law firm leaders in the United States. He has been called “an exceptional presenter” who is “the definition of value.”

He is the co-author, with John E. Morris, of the leading book on law firm mergers and other combinations titled Law Firm Mergers: Lessons from Successful Strategic Combinations, published by Globe Law and Business of London.

He has advised on many of the most high-profile law firm mergers and other combinations over the past decade. He is presently advising on several active merger discussions involving Am Law 50, 100, 200, Global 100, and smaller specialty and regional firms. In 2022, he advised on a combination that created a new Am Law 75 firm and on the acquisition of a Chambers-ranked specialty firm in Washington, D.C.

He is also presently advising a group of Am Law 25 and Am Law 50 firms on updating and achieving their growth strategies. In addition, he is engaged on an ongoing basis by a group of Global 100 and 200 firms as a trusted advisor to their chairs and senior leadership teams.

With more than two decades of relevant experience, Kent is valued for his well informed and sophisticated understanding of the evolving legal market and inside knowledge of the strategies, cultures, and best practices of high-performing law firms. He routinely counsels and provides insights to industry leaders on the challenges and opportunities they face as a result of the consolidation, specialization, segmentation and globalization of the legal services market.

This work often involves advising firms on paths to market leadership and strategies of high-performing firms to address gaps with peers and aspirational peers in balancing scale, quality, financial performance and culture.

As part of this work, he also conducts one-on-one interviews with chief legal officers, managing directors, and business unit heads at market-leading Fortune 500 and global companies.

Kent speaks at about 25 law firm retreats and leadership meetings annually and publishes regularly. At the invitation of contributing editor and Harvard Law School Fellow Heidi K. Gardner, he co-authored a chapter on law firm merger best practices in Leadership for Lawyers: Essential Leadership Strategies for Law Firm Success, Volume Two (Globe Law and Business Ltd.).

Kent also serves as a Law.com fellow, contributes to The American Lawyer, and has appeared as a legal analyst on CNN Headline News, Fox News, and The Wall Street Journal's WSJ Live. His insights have also been featured by Bloomberg, CNBC, Law360, and Reuters.

Before joining Zeughauser Group, Kent was one of three equity partners who developed a small startup, Hubbard One, into one of the fastest-growing private companies in North America. He eventually led the sale of the business to the public company now known as Thomson Reuters. Subsequently, Kent was appointed chief executive and led the turnaround of New York-based West Legalworks, a unit of Thomson Reuters.
